

How do several marker distributions vary?

